

STEM CELL TREATMENT BREAKTHROUGH

By Gary Clark

The latest greyhound medical breakthrough technology is now available to trainers following the launch of the new StemVet science products.

The new stem cell treatment and associated products for a variety of problems with the racing greyhound is the brainchild of the Medivet company.

More importantly it is already being trialled by Australia's leading breeder Paul Wheeler," This is amazing technology, I'm very interested to see the ongoing results". "I'm currently doing trials with Medivet in the stem cell treatment of greyhounds. I'm pleased with the early results".

The Managing Director of Medivet Pty Ltd, Shaneel Khan is delighted to have Paul Wheeler working with them in trialling this new and developing stem cell treatment.

The Wheeler dynasty is managed by Paul Wheeler and if he is satisfied with future results the stem cell treatment could be an integral part of the national Wheeler racing team.

"StemVet has been launched following several years of development and the results are speaking for themselves. We welcome all owners, trainers and breeders to join us and be apart of this exciting Australian breakthrough", Khan expressed.

There has already been success with the stem cell treatment at the top level in thoroughbred racing in NSW.

"The stem cell activation product, which is drug free is expected to have a huge impact in the training of greyhounds internationally".

Maximizing the health and wellness of the performing greyhound, enhances and optimizes muscle, tissue and tendon structure. StemVet science – Activation enables animals to perform at their optimum levels.

StemVet-Activation works at the cellular level by bathing the cells in the best possible protein, the cells respond with resilience, health and longevity. The generated robust health exhibits strength, stamina, and better resistance to parasites and disease. When the dormant stem cells are activated by StemVet ( up to 15% of stem cells are dormant) the entire greyhound is healthier enabling it to perform at its very best.

Another product that is likely to be utilized more than most will be the Bio-Bute Patch which will pain free racing and can be used up to race day, more importantly it does not swab.

The treatment is in two parts, firstly you apply the liquid Bio-Bute to the affected area, rub in gently then apply the Bio-Bute patch and cover it with a light strapping.

This product is designed to produce maximum pain relief and assists with the full return to mobility of strained, injured or inflamed joints.

The most important part of all the stem cell treatment and Bio-Bute products is that it's affordable for every trainer at all levels. The Bio-Bute patches for instance come in boxes of 10 for just $30.
